

Change of Name: Tusker Minerals Ltd

Following strong support received at the Annual General Meeting (AGM) on Friday, 21 November 2025, DY6 Metals Limited is pleased to confirm that shareholders have approved the Company's change of name to "Tusker Minerals Ltd".

This name change has been registered by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC). Effective Monday, 1 December 2025, the Company will trade on the ASX under its new name and ticker code TSK (previously DY6).

This new identity reflects our growth as a leading African-focused explorer advancing a world-class portfolio of critical mineral assets across Cameroon and Malawi. As Tusker Minerals, we are strengthening our strategic position in supplying high-purity titanium feedstocks and advancing exploration opportunities aligned with the global energy transition.

Coinciding with this milestone, the Company will also launch its new corporate website: <https://tuskerminerals.com/>, available from Monday, 1 December 2025.

Introducing Investor Hub

To further strengthen communication and transparency, the Company has launched its new Investor Hub, designed to provide shareholders and the broader investment community with direct access to key information and updates.

Investor Hub will host:

- ASX announcements, financial results, and corporate presentations
- Exploration and project updates across the Company's portfolio
- Company news, operational insights, and progress reports
- Live and recorded webinars

Investors and shareholders can also create an account to receive updates and engage directly with the Company through questions and comments on published content—enhancing two-way communication as Tusker Minerals continues to advance its critical minerals strategy, including the Central Rutile Project in Cameroon.

We encourage all shareholders and interested parties to register today via:
<https://investors.dy6metals.com/>

This announcement has been approved by the Board of DY6 (soon to be “TSK”).
